

ELSYD was founded in 1978 to provide small and medium sized business with electronic design services. During years our services were extended to all these activities that make us able to supply, starting from client's requests analysis, full functional products "ready for the market".

ELSYD staff is currently made up with experienced professionals and highly specialized engineers, well motivated and customer satisfaction oriented, in order to suddenly and effectively respond to the Global Market growing needs.